

◀ TRINITY KNOT LAMP

Reminiscent of highly prized Tiffany lamps of the late 19th century, this is a classic with a Celtic twist. Leaded glass knots in vivid shades of blue and deep violet glow against a sunny amber-colored background, all atop a decorative bronze-finished metal base. Ideal size for foyer, desk or bedside, lamp measures 18" in height. Imported. Gift wrap and rush delivery are not available.

Ancient Manuscripts

In the mid-5th century, as Europe descended into the Dark Ages, Irish monks in remote island monasteries preserved writing, philosophy—and the Gospels. The art of illumination—minutely detailed paintings depicting animals, humans and elaborate patterns—mixed an imaginative display of high seriousness and surreal humor. Reaching its height with the renowned Book of Kells, Celtic illumination forms a fascinating link between the ancient Druidic culture and the medieval world, in a way that is still visually compelling.
